MANAGER COMMENTARY

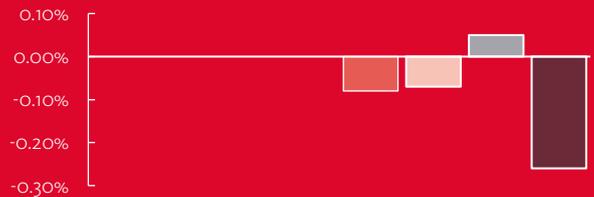

The ACUMEN Strategic Portfolio (GBP) returned -0.36% in September. The Market Composite Benchmark and the IA Specialist sector returned 0.49% and -0.47% respectively. The portfolio has a rolling 1-year return of 7.70%.

Japanese equities rose towards a 27 year high in September, with the Nikkei 225 equity index up 5.5%. Following his successful re-election on 20th September, Shinzo Abe looks set to become Japan's longest serving Prime Minister. His economic reforms know as 'Abenomics' are starting to bear fruit, with improved corporate profit margins and rising bond yields. In the US, the S&P 500 reached a record high, shrugging off the latest round of tariffs between the US and China. The US economy grew 4.2% in the second quarter, prompting the Federal Reserve to raise interest rates by 25bps. An additional rate hike in December is widely expected and we forecast three further quarter point hikes in 2019. The 10-year treasury yield rose 20bps to 3.06% and credit spreads tightened marginally during the period. The Brexit negotiations are entering a critical phase. Theresa May took a defiant stance towards EU leaders following the heads of state summit in Salzburg, claiming a lack of good will from the negotiating team in Brussels. UK economic data continues to hold up well and inflation rose in August to 2.7%, highlighting the underlying strength of the economy. Sterling finished the period up 0.5%, at 1.30 against the US dollar. The Dollar Index ended the month unchanged and emerging market currencies stabilised after a volatile August. In commodities, the S&P Goldman Sachs Commodities Index rose 3.93%, driven higher by the energy sector. Brent oil rose 6.85% to $82.72 per barrel. Gold fell -0.75% to $1,191.69 per ounce. This month we made a number of changes to our equity and fixed income allocations. In equities, we cut our exposure to Eastern Europe and European financials and initiated a new position in commodity equities. We purchased an ETF that tracks shares in gold producing companies, which are currently trading at attractive valuations. In fixed income, we reduced exposure further to emerging market local currency debt as part of a broader risk reduction programme.

INVESTMENT PHILOSOPHY

The fund management industry has experienced significant change in the last quarter of a century. Product innovation has enabled investors to benefit from wider exposure to global financial markets with far greater efficiency and at a lower cost. Index-tracking investments such as Exchange Traded Funds have grown increasingly important and form the building blocks for all of the portfolios managed by Tavistock Wealth. We believe an actively managed, globally allocated, multi-asset portfolio, comprised of low-cost ETFs with diversified holdings in equity, bond, commodity and property markets is statistically more likely to outperform a traditional active manager almost all of the time.

INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE

The investment objective of the ACUMEN Strategic Portfolio is to deliver long term capital growth by investing in a range of global financial markets. The portfolio is typically comprised of higher risk investments such as equities and commodities.
